

Thank you for your interest in a LaPoe Labrador. We are always excited to add new families to our clan. We are happy that you have chosen us and hope that you can appreciate our commitment to the labrador breed and our pride in each and every litter that we are entrusted with. All of our dogs are tested at an early age to determine if they carry genes that could lead them to disease. Many diseases much as EIC and PRA can be eliminated with ethical and responsible breeding. We also make sure that all of our dogs are OFA certified for hips and elbows. They also see a specialized canine ophthalmologist once a year to make sure that they have excellent vision and are free of eye degeneration.

Now that you know a little about us, we would like to know a little bit about you.

Our puppies are all $2000 sold on limited registries. Full registries are considered on a case-by-case basis. Once we have a confirmed litter on the ground, we begin calling our waiting list. We start at the top and work our way down. By completing this form and sending in your non-refundable deposit of $200, or $206.28 (due to fees) through Paypal, you are agreeing to all of our terms and understand how the process works. You may choose to pass on a litter because the timing is not right. That is fine, we will skip to the next person on the waiting list. Checks should be made out to Jamie LaPoe or Paypal payments can be made to jlapoe@clare.k12.mi.us. Your deposit will expire after one year, so please do not place a deposit if you are more than one year out of wanting a labrador puppy. LaPoe Labradors also reserves the right to have first pick on any litter. Our dogs/puppies are all fed TLC dog food and are put on NuVet supplements at an early age. In order to stand by the health of our puppies and guarantee our nose-to-toes guarantee, we require you to keep your puppy on TLC and give him/her NuVet canine supplements. We are experts in the field of canine nutrition and want our offspring to live long healthy lives. If you have questions about the food or supplement, please do not hesitate to ask. By signing this form you understand our rules and policies.
